1. New concrete-covered, semi-underground infantry shelters were seen near the Zagreb barracks [redacted] Some of the shelters were built into the sidewalks. Small sunken one-gun emplacements were also observed.
2. Similar camouflaged shelters were seen in Belgrade. Reportedly these were very strongly constructed.
3. A Yugoslav Air Force official from Zagreb-Barogaj stated that the Barogaj airfield has similar fortifications.

Comment: The shelters were presumably built for the close-range defense of barracks and airfields. The fact that such fortifications were constructed indicates that preparations against an attack are also being taken in the interior of Yugoslavia.
